Transfer of technology to disadvantaged area: Abujhmarh

It is well known fact that the farmers of Abujhmarh-Orchha are traditionally backward, poor and quite ignorant about technical know-how of modern agriculture. The entrepreneurship and scientific value orientation are very poorly developed in the people and they live on only subsistence farming and collection of non timber forest produces.

In spite of the rich potentiality of the district to grow excellent horticulture crops of fruit, vegetables and ornamental plants, the area of development is low. It is on account of lack of consciousness, inadequate and lack of infrastructure facilities with regard to marketing, storage, processing and packaging etc. non availability of quality input in time to farmers possess grand constraint affecting agriculture production and income to a great extent.

Due social problems, the government machineries will not reach to disturbed areas and Govt. schemes not easily and run and tribal peoples are not benefited. If any Govt. agency will try to work or implement any schemes in these areas, have heavy losses of manpower and money.

In spite of the problems mentioned above, KVK, Narayanpur has been transferring modern agricultural technologies to that particular area not only by quality input supply but also by organizing extension activities and distribution of technical literatures as table below.
